FOCUS

100

The world is not respectable;
it is mortal, tormented, confused,
deluded for ever;
but it is shot through with beauty,
with love, with glints of courage and laughter; and in these
the spirit blooms timidly, and struggles to the light
among the thorns.

WELCOME

TO IT

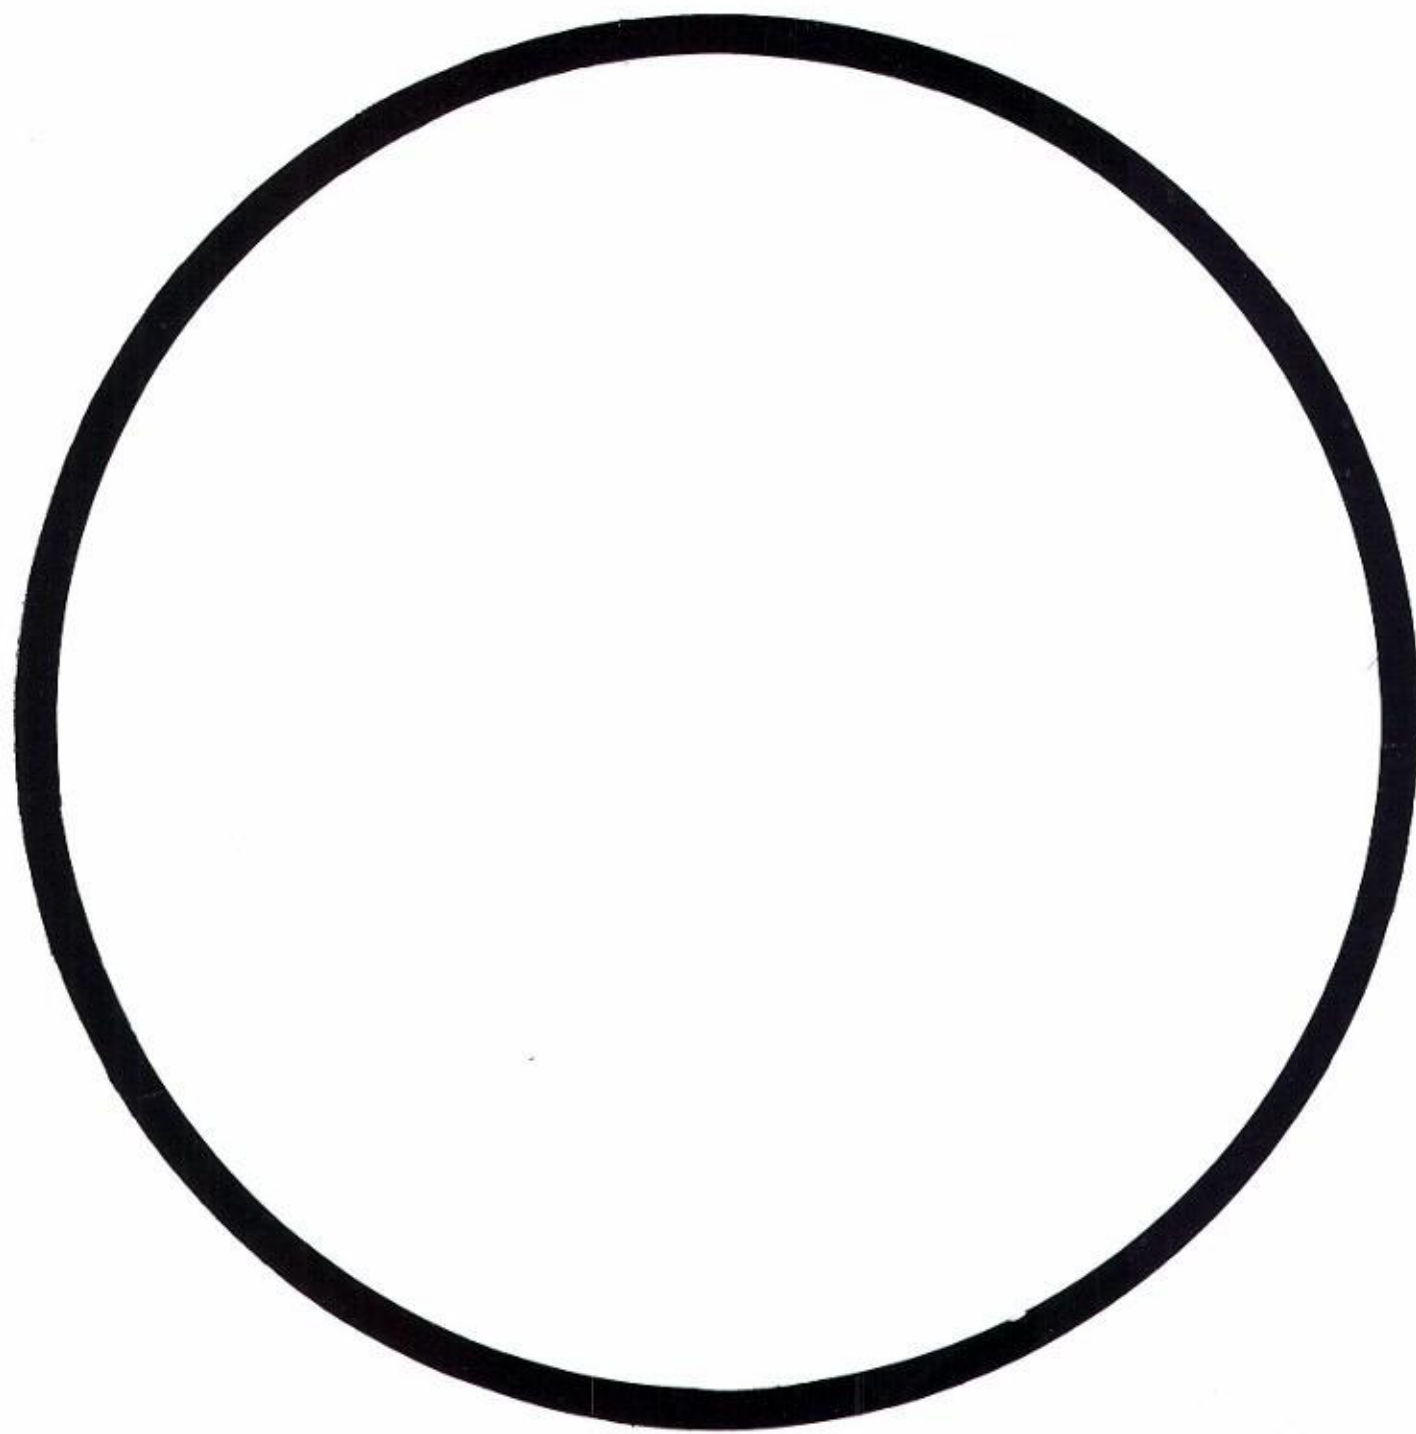

Dedication

We, the Class of 1971, have chosen for the theme of this Yearbook, "Our World And Welcome To It." Yet in viewing the many facets of our world, we are disturbed by the many faults and wrongs that have been carried over from generation to generation. We now realize that the amelioration of the world can no longer be simply our endeavor; rather, it is our duty.

Perhaps, the only action we can take at this point is to express our hope for the future as seen through the eyes of this mass of "dangling" young people who are about to confront the world. We hope for Brotherhood and a world in which every man is truly "his brother's keeper." We hope that, as human beings, we will learn to live in harmony with the world instead of destroying its natural beauty. We hope that future generations will be relieved of the burden of war, disease, poverty, and ignorance which humanity has had to bear for so long. And finally, as our most express desire, we hope for peace on earth.

We are firmly resolved and dedicated to the task of making our world one in which we will all feel welcome.

Special Thanks

We could not say farewell to FCS without recognizing a man who will linger always in our fondest memories. He has been more than an advisor; he has been a friend, a mentor, and a believer in us when all others had lost faith in "the worst class to ever hit the school." In the past two years, his dauntless confidence in us has endeared him to us and it is to this man, Mr. Leshner, that we offer a very special thanks.

Mr. Michelson

Mr. Leshner

Remember the fourth period lectures with Mr. Leshner, listening to the music lessons from backstage, changing seats and being counted absent, and falling asleep? . . . Remember Mrs. Kapito's little song and dance routines: "Toot, Toot, Tootsie, Goodbye," and "I'm a Old Cowhand from Hindustan" . . . Or Mr. Kasofsky, alias Snideley Whiplash -- the nicest, nasty person we know . . . We'll all be looking forward to the publication of Larry Gainen's upcoming book, "The Behavioral Patterns of Seventh Graders", as told to his Economics class. Good luck, Larry . . . How about Mr. Michelson's laughing at his own jokes, or at jokes he never even heard, just to be sociable.

Mrs. Clark

Mr. Neiderman

Mr. Steiglitz

English

Mr. Feldman

Remember Mr. Feldman's constant conflicts with his alter ego -- Nicolette? Or Mr. Steiglitz's "in depth" study of CANTERBURY TALES . . . Do you know that "Andy" is short for "Neanderthal" Neiderman? . . . How about when Mrs. Williams was "Muscatel"?

Mrs. Williams

Mrs. Berger

Miss Hasbrouck

Language

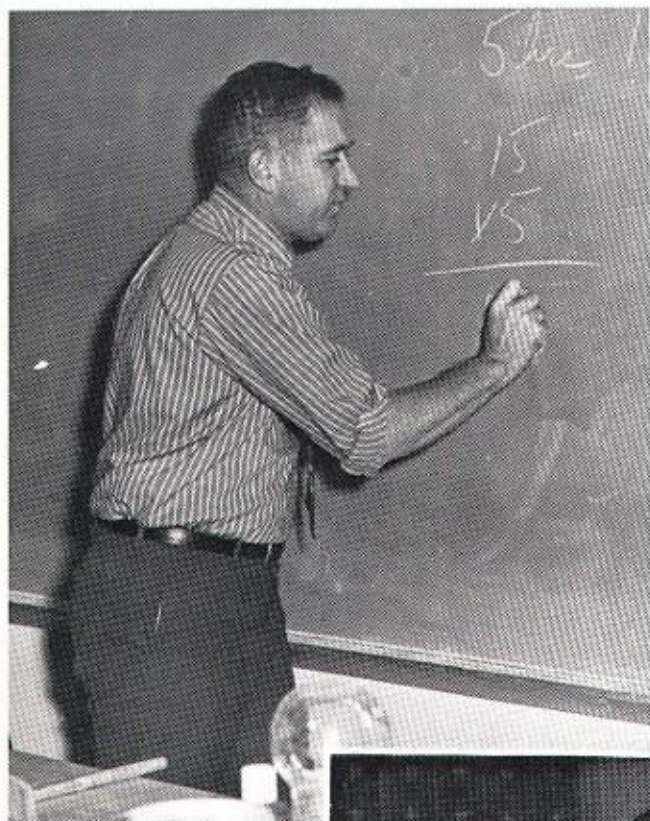

Remember when Mr. Denning delivered a sermon to our Seventh grade French class: "Those who do not apply themselves will fall by the wayside." Twenty-eight out of thirty thus fell . . . How about Mrs. Kagan's motherly attitude towards every Spanish class: "I didn't want to send you to Mr. McDermott, but you know it was for your own good" . . . Or when Mrs. Kalter got her tongues crossed and talked to her French class in Spanish?

Mrs. I. Kagan

Mr. Denning

Mr. Rush

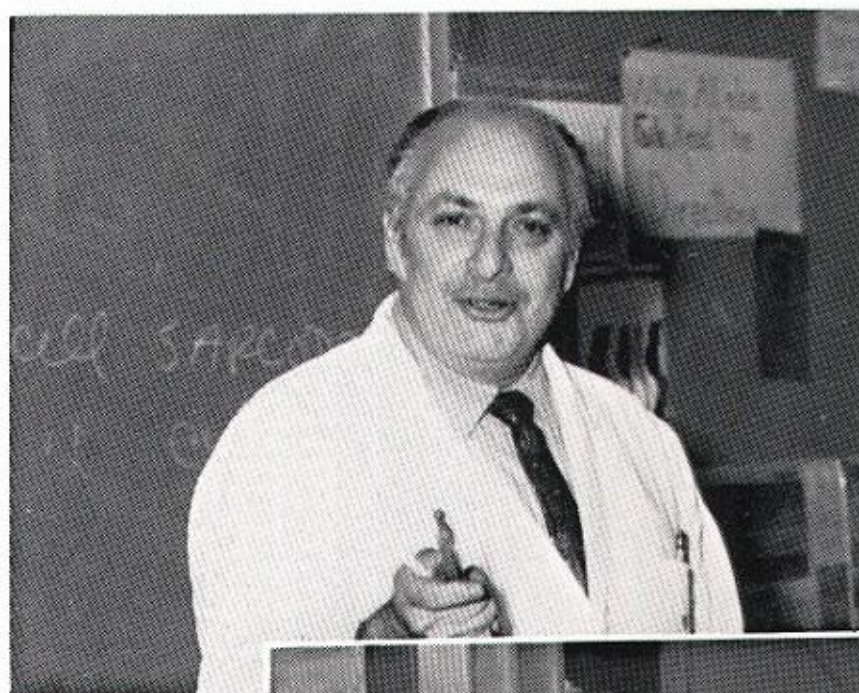

Science

Mr. Beytin

Mr. Malamud

Mr. Friedman

Remember when Mr. Beytin's Chem class counted down to zero and threw their review books at him . . . Or when Rory handed him a glass rod straight from the Bunsen burner . . . Remember when Mr. Hardik was asked, "Can you get syphilis from a bathroom?" and he replied, "Yes, but the floor must be awfully cold" . . . How about Mr. Malamud's favorite movie star -- "Hemo the Magnificent" . . . Or when he got his big chance as Earthquake McGoon . . . Remember Mr. Friedman's "bongo bongo" process, and his theory of "finagling" the figures to make his experiments balance correctly.

Mr. Tollin

Mr. Hardik

Mr. Townsend

Faster than a speeding bullet . . . Able to reach the other end of the board in a single bound. Is it? . . . it is! Super-Glove Wasserman! . . . How can we forget Mrs. Cohen's terrifying surprise quiz -- it spelled out "Happy New Year." . . . Or the heavy-duty, every-duty accountant, Mr. Townsend.

Mrs. Miller

Math

Mrs. Cohen

Mr. Wasserman

Mrs. Steinjann

Remember Mr. Gainen's vocabulary words, sentences, and stories? Are they distant cousins of Dick and Jane or Think and Do?" . . . and he shook when he laughed like a bowl full of jelly" (when Mr. Levy conducted his chorus) . . . Remember Mrs. Kwartler's high-pitched voice in the 20 corridor, interrupting your speedreading story?

How about learning Business Law in terms of Mr. Rothschild's "hotel", Chester's . . . What about Mrs. Steinjann's take-over of the Typing and Shorthand classes: "The bell rang, girls. Get to work, open your shorthand notebooks . . ."

Remember "Door, seat, seatbelt, mirror . . ."
And how the girls with short dresses had to climb into the trunk for the spare . . . Wouldn't it be funny if Mr. Cecil were arrested for stealing cars for his Shop class.

How about pigs-in-a-blanket and fallen cakes cheerfully presented by Miss Anthony's "little

EXTRACTS CONFISCATED FROM A STRAY ECONOMICS NOTEBOOK

I didn't do a very good job of teaching this yesterday . . .
Here we go again
Let me explain it this way . . .
Just 45 minutes to go
Draw this chart in your notebook . . .
I can't, I just can't
When the Liquidity Preference Schedule combines with the marginal propensity to . . .
35 minutes
These two lines intersect at Point "E" . . .
I'm not gonna make it
According to John Keynes, the Great Depression was caused by . . .
Damn you, Keynes
Equilibrium can be reached below full employment . . .
What did I do to deserve this?
Of course, when you consider the inelasticity of demand . . .
20 minutes
Plug this into the Production Function and you discover . . .
Where does he get the energy
Income is a function of . . .
He can talk forever
Well maybe I didn't explain that well after all . . .
Yes you did, Yes you did!
Here's another viewpoint . . .
no, No, Please NO!
The supply and demand curves . . .
What are they putting us through?!This theory has no practical application . . .
Neither has this class.

An Original Poem

by Kevin Mednick

It is with happy heart and soul
That English Class await we all
For down around the 30th corridor
Dwell a bunch of brains called Feldman's Farmers.

"Talk to me, talk to me, if you dare
For you're stupid and senseless and really don't care
I'll tear you apart without any armor."
So spoke the leader of Feldman's Farmers.

"You mean you never read it?
Oh, this class, how I dread it.
Dammit, you kids, is there one not a fool?"
My, but Big Gene was really cool.

But let us not forget the compassion
Of that cool, that calm, and righteous man
We know, deep down his mind is thrashin'
'Cause Big Gene Feldman gives a damn.

Remember . . .

When Kim went to Florida.

When Mr. Kasofsky was handing out papers and Craig said, "Waiter."

When Wayne used to sing at parties.

When Mrs. Kagan said, "Isn't a cow and a mule the same thing?"

When Artrice and Jimmy were building a log cabin.

Signing Haddon's casts?

When Donna King never shut up.

Cindy and Celine?

The Summit?

When Robert became Felix?

Trying to keep up with Nicolette's reading.

When in Mr. Feldman's class Cindy read "versions" as virgins?

When Neil went parking on Prom night and dented the car.

When Mr. Kasofsky got stuck in a snowstorm in Syracuse.

When Mr. Denning tried to explain "shank's mare," or when we tried to get him to take music appreciation (Annette's pornographic music . . . "But it's Debussy, Mr. Denning!").

When Jeffrey Studley crammed a Ring Ding up Wayne Griffin's nose.

When Mrs. Kapito wore her red shoes and red dress, blue shoes and blue dress, orange shoes and orange dress, yellow shoes and yellow dress . . .

When Mr. Beytin pleaded with Sharon to take a "small" whiff of HCl.

When Miss Rubin wouldn't tell us the sex of the cat she was dissecting.

When Ava and Annette got an "F" for hiding the dirty cookie sheet in Home Ec.

When Rory got his big chance on the basketball team -- he got to switch shorts with Butch.

When Morris kissed Mr. McDermott.

Alan Newkrug's and Jeffrey Studley's parties.

Remember . . .

When Melissa pulled up her sweater and showed Mr. Feldman her undershirt.

David Stangel's mother's brownies.

When the class bought Jody's parents a new ping pong table.

When Miss Hand was on "Pay Cards."

When Mr. Kasofsky was rejected for "Jeopardy."

When Mr. Loughan gave Jan an "F" for her poem "The Pansy."

When Mr. Lawrence's class in Room 3 rigged the toilet to flush in the middle of class.

When Audrey drove to school and found out that there was no school.

Mr. Hardik's accidents.

Sari's and Jody's music lessons.

When Nicolette did a cheer for Mr. McDermott.

Mr. L. Gainen's philosophy: "If you're dead you don't figure in the statistics."

When Bart, Howard and Steve ran for Senior Class Chicken Farmer and lost.

"Tiny Tina Tuna Fish."

When Merry got up in the middle of the night to go to school.

Sharon's radishes and cucumbers.

Ava's shopping-bag lunches.

The good times with the old blue Cadillac.

When Marcia Greenblatt and Peter Cohen had a race on crutches.

Ellen's, Lynn's and Marcia's suite at Davos.

When Merry, Donna and Jeffrey Chertkoff went to the fortune-teller at Roscoe.

When Mr. Racine chased Henry in Mr. Racine's Camaro.

When J.V. Baseball won a game and Mr. Levy jumped up and lost his pants.

When we were in 7th grade and anxiously awaited the school bus . . . Now we are Seniors and the school bus waits . . . and waits . . . for us.

All Things Must Pass

All things must pass

All things must pass

None of life's strings can last

So we must be on our way to face another day

Class Portrait

We entered FCS thinking we were seventh graders only to learn from Mr. McDermott that we were really squares. We said, "Hello, Mr. Storm" and he replied, "You're the worst class ever to enter this high school!" Seniors were nameless, faceless giants. (Sam Hillman, Ray Collins) Our school came in third on It's Academic and we won the Monticello game by one point. There were seventh and eighth grade cheerleaders and Friday night at the movies became a ritual.

As eighth graders, we all bought tickets to the school's only musical hit "Bye, Bye, Birdie" and all the girls fell in love with Terry Baxter. Trips to Palisades happened everyday. Everyone went to G.O. dances. Linda Schwartz, Marcy Slutsky, Miss Rubin, and Mr. Loughan all left. We also said, "Goodbye, Mr. Storm."

Our ninth grade year began on a sad note with the passing of our classmate Dennis Gilmore. With Jody as President, we officially became part of the Senior high school. Wow! We were really in the big time! We met Mr. Turner, Miss Hand, and Mr. Naso for the first time and Mr. McDermott became Lord Jim. We were determined to excel in all our "intellectual pursuits" until we were introduced to the Regents. And we finally got up enough nerve to go to Crossways.

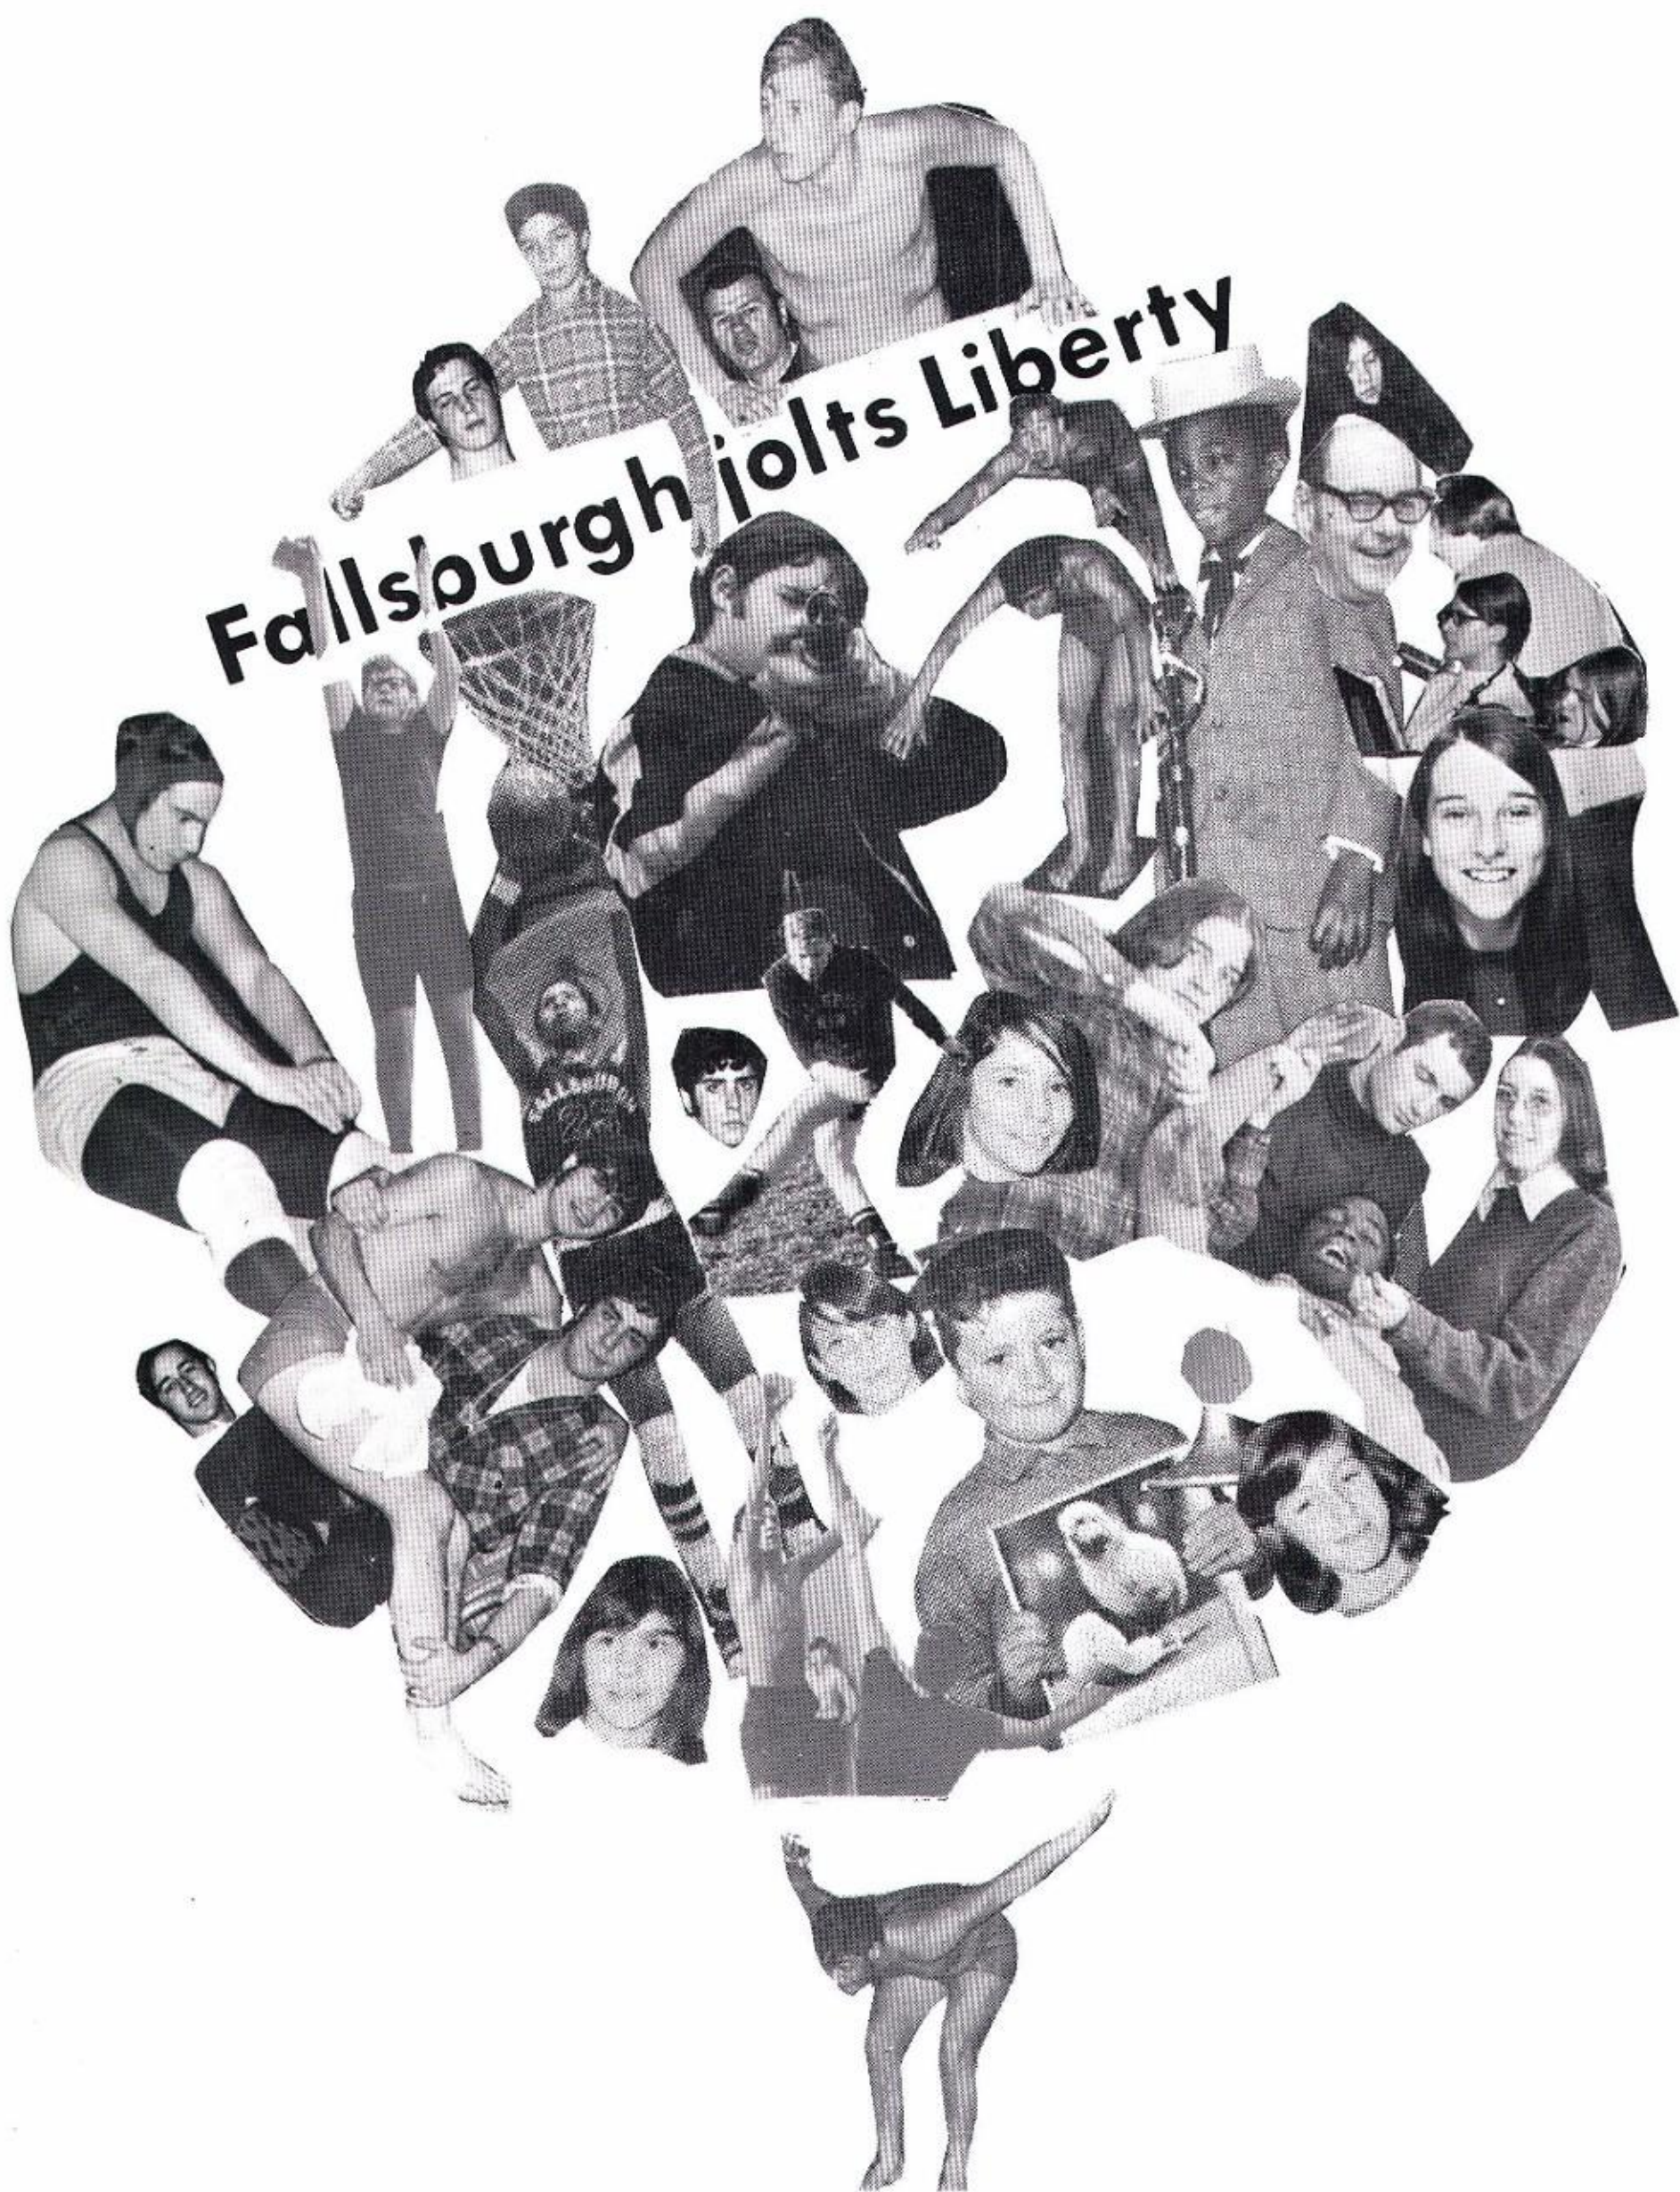

Senior Band and Senior G.O. marked our entry into tenth grade with Lee as our dedicated leader. We were told to "freak out in the woods" so we went up to Indian Lake. This was the year of Mr. Hardik's Bio class and Mr. Michelson's "discourses." After the Geometry Regents, we knew we were academic catastrophes.

As Juniors, we got our class rings and indulged in an evening of "romantic revelry in Paris" on prom night. It was really a great year; the bus broke down on the way to Carnegie Hall and all of six kids showed up for every class activity. Sari decided to graduate. Missy starred in "David and Lisa." Girls asserted their rights by disregarding tradition and wearing pants to school. Suddenly there were peace marches, moratoriums, and involvement. Everyone went to Yagerville.

As Seniors, Babo became our boss and Annette was his vice. Morris was his treasure . . . er and Sharon was his . . . er . . . College applications drove us crazy. The trip to Montreal was dropped. Joan, Brenda, Sandy all got engaged. Ava was our "Kind Lady". And with tear-filled eyes, we looked back on our past six years and decided, "We'll get even some day!!!"

In Remembrance Of Dennis Gilmore

“ . . . And then we think of one who in his youthful beauty died,
The fair meek blossom that grew up and faded by our side.
In the cold moist earth we laid him, when the forest cast
the leaf,
And we wept that one so lovely should have a life so brief:
Yet not unmeet it was that one like that young friend of ours,
So gentle and so beautiful, should perish with the flowers.”

After he had journeyed,
And his feet were sore,
And he was tired,
He came upon an orange grove
And he rested.
And he lay in the cool,
And while he rested, he took to himself an orange and tasted it,
And it was good.
And he felt the earth to his spine,
And he asked, and he saw the tree above him, and the stars,
And the veins in the leaf,
And the light, and the balance.
And he saw magnificent perfection,
Whereon he thought of himself in balance,
And he knew he was.

Just open your eyes,
And realize, the way it's always been.
Just open your mind
And you will find
The way it's always been.
Just open your heart
And that's a start.

And he thought of those he angered,
For he was not a violent man,
And he thought of those he hurt
For he was not a cruel man
And he thought of those he frightened
For he was not an evil man,
And he understood.
He understood himself.
Upon this he saw that when he was of anger or knew hurt
or felt fear,
It was because he was not understanding,
And he learned, compassion.

And with his eye of compassion
He saw his enemies like unto himself,
And he learned love.
Then, he was answered.

Just open your eyes
And realize, the way it's always been.
Just open your mind
And you will find
The way it's always been.
Just open your heart
And that's a start.
